Hi,

We contacted you about your use of Trustpilot's brand on killfeed.co that doesn't align with our guidelines.

Unfortunately, we've continued to detect this behaviour, which we consider misuse of the Trustpilot brand on killfeed.co, so we're following up with this warning and adding a consumer alert on your business profile.

We kindly ask you to address this issue. Ignoring this warning could lead to further action being taken against your business, as set out in our Action We Take Policy.

What is misuse of the Trustpilot brand?

Misuse of the Trustpilot brand is misleading or incorrect use of our name, logo, TrustScore, Star Rating, TrustBox widgets, or other brand assets. This includes displaying outdated Star Ratings on your website, using a TrustBox widget that is not included in your Trustpilot plan, or an unofficial third-party application used to display Trustpilot content.

Misuse of our brand is a breach of our Legal Brand Guidelines, and undermines the trust and integrity of our platform.

In this case, we've detected the following misuse of our brand: You're displaying reviews from Trustpilot without our approval. This is commonly known as "scraping".

How to fix it:

- Please remove all scraped Trustpilot reviews from your site.

What do I need to do?

- Please make the changes within 7 days, and make sure to follow our Legal Brand Guidelines.
- Remember to only use widgets available under the "Share & promote" section in your Trustpilot Business account.

What happens next?

We'll continue to monitor the situation. If we continue to detect misuse of the Trustpilot brand on killfeed.co, you'll receive a Cease and Desist notice, and we may take further steps against your business, such as placing a consumer warning on your business profile during which your TrustScore will be hidden, as set out in our Action We Take Policy.

If you have questions or need support, please reply to this email, and we'll assist you.

Kind regards,
